PINEAPPLES AT WASHINGTON

Acknowledgements have been received by Land Commissioner Pratt from heads of departments and other officials in Washington for pineapples he sent to them. They all testify that the fruit arrived in excellent condition.

Von Hamm-Young Co. will shortly receive four Cadillac touring cars, all of which have been sold to arrive. Jas. B. Castle expects to receive his fine Packard 1909 touring car within the next two weeks.
A car in the garage of Von Hamm-Young Co. which is being greatly admired is a six-cylinder, 40-h. p. Thomas Flyer. This car has the latest type of low body which is all the rage on the mainland and possesses a most stylish appearance.

A Thomas Flyer arrived by the S. S. Alameda for a wealthy tourist named Smith who is stopping at the Moana Hotel. It will be used for touring the islands.

Jerry Rooney is still breaking records with his Buick—records for intelligent service, and careful driving. When you need an auto ring up 193 and ask for Jerry Rooney.

The Schuman Carriage Co. have sold their last Ford Model "D" to James Dole, the pineapple king.

The Schuman Carriage Co. will receive two E. M. F. Studebaker cars by the S. S. Lurline due here on Friday. There are a number of motorists interested in these celebrated low priced cars.

KUHIO URGING SEVERAL BILLS

Washington, D. C., Jan. 18, 1909. —The House editor HAWAIIAN STAR.—This morning we are using every endeavor to have increases and corrections made in the pineapple schedule by the Ways and Means Committee.

There is considerable general discussion among members of Congress and in the press both for and against a tariff on coffee. But as a member of Congress said to me this morning, the question of a bill carrying some new surveys and a relatively small lump sum for the maintenance of a few government projects, as public sentiment would not permit. This will probably make it difficult to secure any additional duty to be imposed merely to protect the coffee industry in the appropriation for the Hilo Breakwater, a portion of the country alone. Since Assistant Secretary Winthrop has been taken up with Secretaries Cortelyou and Garfield personally, the question of the island of Kauai, having competitive plans called for by the Treasury Department for the hearing on the claim of Queenolani public building, and hope to see Liliuokalani. At that time I presented a favorable action.

The Naval Bill as reported on Saturday covers the grounds of the claim. Mr. Murray carries $600,000 for Pearl Harbor followed with an argument in favor of the claim, and Mr. McClelland and $100,000 for general yard development. The committee has rejected a statement consisting of ex-emption. A continuation of this hearing will be held on Thursday of this week. Senator Clark of Wyoming has introduced an amendment to an appropriation bill for these two objects. Very truly,
J. KALANIANAOLE,
Delegate to Congress.

THE DREDGE CASE ENDS

The dredge case

The mandate of the Supreme Court of the United States dismissing for want of jurisdiction the writ of error to the Supreme Court of Hawaii sued out by defendants in the suit of Territory of Hawaii vs. Cotton Bros. & Co. has been received at Judiciary headquarters. This leaves the judgment in favor of the Territory for $25,000, on account of the loss of a marine dredge, standing. The papers in the case make two huge portfolios.

ENDING OF APPEALS.

Kou Kiu's appeal from a fine of $25 and costs in the Honolulu District Court for furious and heedless riding has withdrawn his appeal. The offense was committed at Kaneohe, the wild riding of defendant having frightened a country team of one horse and three mules harnessed to a wagon and thereby endangered the personal safety of the driver, James Kawai, and the safety of the team.

Ah Wong, Chung Sick and Leong Chee have withdrawn their appeal from a fine of $9 and costs each in the Honolulu District Court for being present at gambling.

A nolle prosequi was entered before Judge De Bolt for Ching Chow and seven others, who appealed from a fine of $6 and costs each for gambling. Kupali, having withdrawn his appeal from a fine of $100 and costs for unauthorized liquor selling, had the sentence repeated by Judge De Bolt with appeal costs added.

$3,000 BY TAGGING

chaperones, and the chaperones tagged too, it is figured that when the last coin's counted after five o'clock this evening there will be between twenty-five hundred and three thousand dollars for the benefit of the babies sought to be supplied with milk.

There may have been a few kickers at the idea of any Tag Day proposition, but a spirit of jollity linked arms with the spirit of benevolence and a fever of enthusiasm struck many of the victims of the Tag Brigade.

It was for a good cause and that was the basis of the whole thing. On a sound basis most anything can be built and in this case fun and frolic, joy and jollity, mirth and merrymaking, jest and gentle mischief all turned to and joined in building a tower of usefulness.

White robed femininity stood guard in bunches on the street corners, scooted, tripped and in some instances almost danced up and down the business streets, besieged stores and restaurants and business offices, banks, shops and gatherings of men, calling "Tag, tag!" Seldom was there a refusal and numerous were the cases where nothing less than a big iron dollar was the reward—for the babies.

One distinguished chaperone, surrounded by a half dozen girls, espied Paul Isenberg emerging from his automobile near the building of E. O. Hall & Son. Isenberg was already covered with tags, but that made no difference to the fair brigades.

"I'm already tagged," said Isenberg, replying to the invitations of the girls.

"Oh, just one more," cried they. "Nothing doing," said Paul. "I'll kiss you if you buy another tag," said the chaperone.

What could the gentleman do under such circumstances but submit his cheek and receive a chaste osculation and then dig up a dollar, for of course it would have looked mean to price a kiss at less.

In this connection it may be remarked that the girls did not take example of their chaperone, otherwise there might have been a panic or a crush. Mique Fisher, world's baseball magnate, got tagged but not kissed, though this is no reflection on Mique's personal beauty.

Shipping Commissioner Almy rode down in the car and was accosted by a man sitting next to him. "Here, old man, is a dollar I owe you."

Almy had forgotten he had ever lent a dollar.

"I'll save the babies with it," he said, and he did.

In front of the Waterhouse Trust he was slapped on the back half an hour later by a friend who said:

"Say, Admiral, it's nearly a week since I've seen you. Here's fifty cents I owe you." Almy was astounded, but took the money and saved some more babies.

There was such a crush in the store of E. O. Hall & Son, for it seemed to be one of the most popular corners, that the management was bewildered and was on the point of calling a special meeting of the directors to institute proceedings to have the tag day stopped as a restraint of trade, but the cheerful smiles of the girls and the

WHEN YOU CATCH A COLD

Always Take a Few Doses of Pe-ru-na
It Is Dangerous to Neglect a Cold.

Mr. George A. Nicholas, 75 Wellington Street, Launceston, Tasmania (Australia), is a prominent grocer, having been in the business about 18 years. He writes as follows:
"I have on several occasions, when afflicted with a cough or cold, used Peruna with the best of results. I believe it to be a splendid remedy for such ailments."

MR. GEORGE A. NICHOLAS.

A LARGE per cent. of chronic ailments begin with a neglected cold. A cold produces congestion of some internal organ. The congestion at last becomes chronic and organic disease is the result.

When an organic disease becomes thoroughly established, it is absolutely incurable. Thus it is dangerous to neglect a cold.

A remedy should always be at hand that can be relied upon to promptly relieve a cold.

There is no better remedy in the world for this purpose than Peruna, which has been in use for a great many years.

It has been the standby in a multitude of homes as a remedy for colds, coughs and catarrhal ailments of summer and winter.

witching words of chaperones overcame their rash thought.
At least one enterprising young lady made a point of tearing tags off the coats of men as she passed them or as they passed her and she was closely followed by another girl, a friend in the scheme, who replaced the stolen tags with new ones for which the men thus re-tagged had to pay, she accusing them of never having been tagged and the poor "unfortunates" had nothing more to say, for money did the talking.

When the Buford arrived of course it was up to the girls to tag the passengers. Arrivals in the Mauna Kea from Hilo were tagged early. All the restaurants were visited about breakfast time and no one escaped. One man said he just had the price of his breakfast, but had to dig up on the lady going to the cashier and assuring him that the gentleman could be trusted to pay for the breakfast at another time but that the babies' case was more urgent.

Lots of men made it a point of getting as many tags as possible, getting dollars changed for dimes and getting a tag from every girl they met. Ladies, of course, were tagged, too.

Jim Quinn's automobile was decorated with tags; drivers of vehicles carried tags, for which they had paid, on their whips, and gas-machines were duly adorned. On their desks merchants and business men displayed their tags. Men who were tagged in the street placed their identification marks in their hats, hat bands, in their button holes, anywhere and every where where they could be seen.

A lady dropped an armful of tags and, of course, a passing gentleman stopped and picked them up for her. She smiled graciously, but informed him that since he had the tags he had better keep them—and pay for them, which he did. Oh, you babies, and, oh you girls!

KULA GETS RAIN

A little rain has fallen in Kula, Maui, for many months suffering from drought. The record is 30-100 inch around Ulupalakua and Kula. Weather indications seem to promise getting more rain.

There is no further news of the rainfall in Kau, Hawaii, except that Naelehu had about the same as Pahala.

The Associated Garage recently received a 40-h. p. Kissel touring car for Manager Bull of Waipahu plantation; also a 30-h. p. stock Kissel Kar, the first "30" of this make to reach Honolulu.

The Associated Garage have sold a small Kissel Kar to J. Gaspar of Hawaii.

Endorsement was voted to the proposed legislation empowering the Board of Supervisors to enact ordinances for the control of buildings and tenements. Appreciation to the Board of Supervisors for its prompt enactment of the tenement house ordinance was passed.
